Wild Geese
"You do not have to be good. You do not have to walk on your knees for a hundred miles through the desert repenting."
- Mary Oliver (p. 14)

Description: Reading this felt like breathing after holding it in for years. I've spent so much time trying to be enough, to be good. But this line? It freed me. It told me I was already worthy. That I didn't have to punish myself to be allowed peace. It awakened my right to just be, and to be whole without explanation.

"Everything can be taken from a man but the last of human freedom: to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances, without being reduced to acting out that attitude." - Nelson Mandela

"And, when you want something, all the world is full of it." - Paulo Coelho

"The emotion that can break your heart is not the one that comes with love, but the one that comes with loss." - Paulo Coelho
